Training Description

Become a certified EAL Facilitator! Experientially you'll learn a coaching style of facilitation to conduct EAL programs for varying types of clients. We'll experience how horses, as co-facilitators, provide experiences unlike any other for people to learn or grow. You'll be guided step-by-step as you facilitate activities, and learn best practices to design and conduct effective EAL programs that provide lasting impact for clients. You will build your competence and confidence in facilitation, and you'll explore how to build and market your program.

After attending the training and meeting all the requirements for certification (documented within our training curriculum), you have 6 months to complete the certification Self-Test. Your Self-Test results along with facilitation skills demonstrated during the training program will determine your certification status. This is a knowledge-based certification as an EAL Facilitator, which is a lifetime certification that doesn't require future membership or continuing education to maintain your certification status. You choose when you want to invest in continuing education and our focus is to earn your continuing education business.

Each training is typically up to 12 participants, so this is a highly personal experience with the trainers and other participants.

This is an accelerated training program with pre-work to complete prior to the training.

During the Certification training, you will:

- Receive extensive training materials that include a set of facilitation cards and a library of forms, tools, templates, and samples to use with client programs.
- Integrate the horse-human connection into facilitating client learning experiences and shift into powerful debrief questions. Learn about the key aspects of partnering with horses in a conscious and responsible manner while opening to their feedback and wisdom.
- Practice great facilitation skills to lead any group - corporate training, team building, leadership development, coaching, personal growth, wellbeing, self-care, youth programs, etc.
- Gain direct experience by facilitating EAL horse activities, a safety demonstration, and an end of program recap; you'll be supported with coaching from the trainers and attendees.
- Experience 18 EAL horse activities plus additional activities are provided with the curriculum materials; some activities include somatic awareness and deep individual connection with a horse.
- Learn how to integrate assessment tools with EAL programs; experience the CliftonStrengths (also known as StrengthsFinder) and a strengths focused training experience that you can use with your clients.
- Gain deeper understanding and experience in facilitating clients through the change process; learn how to guide clients to identifying actions for change to carry the experience forward.
- Learn how to build and market your program through offering professional EAL programs; you'll learn a step-by-step process for designing and conducting powerful EAL programs that achieve client goals, deliver lasting impact, and provide amazing client experiences. You'll learn about value-added aspects to stand out from your competition.
- Review EAL specific business aspects such as liability risk management and equine liability insurance, marketing, pricing, selling, and hosting EAL programs.
- Collaborate with others and build a network to support you in building your program.
- Discover your strengths, develop skills, and gain confidence in facilitation; empower your voice and values in your EAL program.

After the training, you'll have access to our free online community (private Facebook group) to connect with others that have attended our trainings to collaborate about EAL tools, techniques, resources, facilitation opportunities, and in many other ways. Also, you may always contact EAL Academy for support with your questions.

Prerequisites:

- Experience with safely handling horses on the ground, no riding or driving experience is needed.
